really a glorious vision, especially when he develops the way in which such a confederation would play a part in pacifying Algeria, assisting underdeveloped countries, and in other directions.

We had a briefing this afternoon by officers from Washington concerning atomic stockpiling agreements in Holland, Turkey, Greece and Germany.

Allen Moreland came in to tell me goodby before going on home leave.

Thereafter, Suleiman arrived. He is shortly to report to Washington for duty as Iraqi Ambassador, having just relinquished his position as Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs. He was depressed over conditions in his country. [redacted]

Louisiana cook, and we had shrimps creole for lunch.

I addressed the officers on the subject of recent political developments in Western Europe prior to the Geneva Conference.

Upon my return to Mehlem at 5:45, I went to the office. Today I received a copy of a letter just sent by the Chancellor to President Eisenhower (see page 87).

Tuesday, May 5, 1959

Beautiful weather. E and I walked to the office.

Mark Childs came to see me, and later I had Cy Sulzberger for lunch. Cy is still pursuing his plan of having West German troops replace the Allied garrisons presently in Berlin. He has received no support for it.
